TODAYS ANNOUNCES DONATION TO THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Dallas, TX – January 25, 2006 – Today's Staffing, a recognized staffing leader offering highly specialized talent solutions, announces today a donation will be made to the American Red Cross to help victims of hurricanes Katrina and Rita. This donation is a result of an initiative announced in September 2005, designed to provide assistance to those in need by allowing for a donation based upon business from new clients in the fourth quarter of 2005. More than 440 new clients worked with Today's from October to December 2005.

"Today's is delighted to make this donation to the American Red Cross" says Dan Neuburger, President of Today's. "We feel that it is imperative to support the communities in which we live and work. We were all moved by the images from the Gulf Coast region and we're proud to be able to assist those in need," he said.

"Thanks to the tremendous community support from individuals and businesses like Today's, the American Red Cross is able to continue helping our communities and nation prepare, prevent and respond to disasters and emergencies every day," said Cheryl Sutterfield-Jones, American Red Cross—Dallas Area Chapter Chief Executive Officer.

The check presentation will take place at the Today's annual Leadership Meeting in Irving, Texas on Wednesday, February 1, 2006.

About the American Red Cross

The American Red Cross is where people mobilize to help their neighbors—across the street, across the country and across the world—in emergencies. Each year, in communities large and small, victims of some 70,000 disasters turn to neighbors familiar and new—the nearly 1 million volunteers and 35,000 employees of the Red Cross. Through more than 800 locally supported chapters, more than 15 million people gain the skills they need to prepare for and respond to emergencies in their homes, communities and world. Some 4 million people give blood—the gift of life—through the Red Cross, making it the largest supplier of blood and blood products in the United States. The Red Cross helps thousands of U.S. service members separated from their families by military duty stay connected. As part of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, a global network of more than 180 national societies, the Red Cross helps restore hope and dignity to the world's most vulnerable people.

An average of 91 cents of every dollar the Red Cross spends is invested in humanitarian services and programs. The Red Cross is not a government agency; it relies on donations of time, money, and blood to do its work.
